INDUSTRIAL ADVISORY BOARD

Created in 2006 the HUPO Industrial Advisory Board (IAB) facilitates communication and input from industry partners to support the proteomics community and to recognize these partners as HUPO affiliates. HUPO supports industry allies active in the development of innovative technologies and appropriate standards that are responsive to the constant changes in the scientific proteomics environment.

MISSION

To provide HUPO and the proteomics community with valuable input on technology and product innovation for the benefit of members and to identify industry trends that will position HUPO to meet the future challenges of its partners and organization.

BENEFITS OF IAB MEMBERSHIP

- Two annual HUPO IAB memberships for company representatives (value $200).
- IAB companies are highlighted in the “IAB Member Spotlight” section of the monthly HUPOST newsletter (one IAB company per month).
- IAB members organize the Technological Advancements session at the world congress: selection of the chairs and invited speakers, review of the submitted abstracts and vote on the abstracts to be presented during the session. Chairs of the session may be IAB reps.
- IAB sponsored Science and Technology Award; IAB representatives solicit and vet nominees; award recipient presented with the award at the world congress.
- Direct contact with the HUPO Executive Committee and annual world congress organizers via monthly IAB calls.
- Member registration fee rate at the world congress.
- IAB representation on the annual congress organizing committee.
- IAB representatives receive an invitation to the President’s Reception at the world congress.
- IAB representatives are promoted on signage at the world congress.
- Attendance at the IAB wrap-up meeting to provide feedback and suggestions for the following year congress.
- IAB representatives are invited to observe at the annual HUPO Council meeting.
- Complimentary Job Board listings for IAB companies (value $200 per listing).
- IAB co-chair is the HUPO Vice President; direct connection to the HUPO Executive Committee.

ELIGIBILITY AND DUES

- HUPO welcomes both small and larger companies to take part and assist HUPO in moving its initiatives and responsibilities forward to the benefit of all members both academic and industrial. With HUPO's strong link with industry, the goal is to ensure that technologies are disseminated rapidly and that HUPO members can directly access the IAB and industrial companies.
- Proteomics product/service distributors/manufacturers; or pharmaceutical or biotech companies with a proteomics disciplinary focus.
- Payment of annual dues is USD $3,000; start up companies (less than 20 employees) USD $2,000.
