

We are very pleased to inform you that Professor Taniguchi has been awarded the IUBMB medal at the 33rd FEBS Congress/11th IUBMB Conference, held in Athens, Greece from June 28 to July 3 in 2008. This is to honor his accomplishment of pioneering work in the field of glycoscience and particularly on the importance of N-glycans in diseases. This medal symbolizes his achievement as an exceptionally successful scientist in the field of biochemistry and molecular biology. Congratulations to Professor Taniguchi; HUPO is honored to have your service and support.
